HISTORY

Our story began when founder Ken Jones rescued his first seal pup in 1958.

For many years, Ken ran a rescue centre for seals and oiled birds from his home in St Agnes. His dream was to find a site where he could build a permanent rescue centre to rehabilitate the pups and give the residents a safe home.

He found the most beautiful location set aside the Helford River Estuary and this site became what we know as the Cornish Seal Sanctuary.

We are proud of the legacy Ken left us and we put seal rescue and rehabilitation at the heart of everything that we do.

CONSERVATION

Here at the Cornish Seal Sanctuary we rescue and care for seals and other marine animals in need of help.

By sharing their stories with you, we hope that you will join us in safeguarding both them and others who might need help in the future.

Protecting our wildlife

We currently organise and run beach, town, road and river cleans around Cornwall in an attempt to reduce the amount of litter that is found in the environment. If you would like to be involved in any cleans, please check out our Facebook page and website.

On site

We are currently working hard to develop our site to make it a haven for local wildlife. We are investing time and funding into creating the right habitats for Cornish species to help them thrive here on the banks of the Helford river.

How you can help

The Cornish Seal Sanctuary is owned and run by the SEA LIFE Trust, a global charity dedicated to protecting the world's oceans and marine life. The Sanctuary's main aim is to rescue, rehabilitate and release seals from around the Cornish coast and we couldn't carry out our lifesaving work without public support. To discover how you can help our seal pup rehabilitation programme or support the care of our long-term residents, please head to our website sealsanctuary.sealifetrust.org for more information and fundraising ideas.
